

ATTENTION VETERANS

Are you a Job Seeker?

Interviewing for a job can be stressful for anyone, particularly for a veteran. RSVP is offering a way for job seekers to be prepared for an interview.

RSVP volunteers offer their skills and advice by conducting FREE interview practice sessions for those looking for employment or needing to brush up on their interviewing skills. These mock interviews will prepare job seekers to feel confident during a job interview.

Sessions include:

- How your training in the military can translate to a civilian position
- Resume review
- How to present a positive impression (including dress, grooming, etc.)
- Realizing and promoting your best assets
- How to answer tough questions
- What to say or not to say
- Job counseling

Interviews are conducted on a one-on-one basis. You will receive constructive and confidential feedback to prepare you for the job market.
