Helpful promotion information

When considering enlisted Airmen for promotion, supervisors/commanders look at drill attendance, training progression, attitude, unit involvement, professional development, willingness to go the extra mile, and whether standards are met. For promotion to E-3 through E-6, once the review process is completed and an individual is recommended for promotion, the wing commander makes the final decision. For promotion to E-7 through E-9, after the supervisor, commander and wing commander recommend promotion, the PA TAG makes the final decision.

Fitness

Corner

One surefire way to fail the PFT

Training to meet only the bare minimum passing scores on the Air Force Physical Fitness Test is a sure path to failure.

What happens if you have an off day, you're sick, or you have an uber-tough evaluator? Instead, set your goal for a perfect score and work to that standard.

NEWS & EVENTS

112th AOS embraces spirit of giving

The enlisted council at the 112th Air Operations Squadron exercised their holiday spirit in December by providing funds to sponsor three children and four families in the State College area through the Salvation Army's Angel Tree Program. The enlisted council donated $400 to the program, which went toward toys and gifts that children had on their wish lists. In addition, the families received Christmas dinners to help celebrate the season.

Special thanks to Tech. Sgt. Chris Janssen and Staff Sgt. Patrick Jansen and other members of the enlisted council who came up with the idea. Using money raised through various fundraisers, the organization was able to provide holiday cheer and promote a spirit of giving throughout the 2013 holiday season.

Free coffee from the enlisted council

The 193rd Special Operations Wing Enlisted Council would like to show its appreciation for enlisted members by offering free coffee on Saturday of January drill.

The first 100 12-oz. coffees will be donated by the council. To get one, see an enlisted council representative for a coffee coupon, which is redeemable at the Base Exchange. This offer applies only on Jan. 25.

Change to mobile device rules

Airmen should be aware of a recent change to AFI 36-2903, Dress and Personal Appearance, regarding the wear/use of mobile devices in uniform. The information below includes the new rules:

Handheld electronic devices are small electronic equipment such as cellular phones (personal or official); MP3 or similar players; radios; or hands-free devices (e.g. Bluetooth).

Handheld electronic devices, if worn on the belt/waistband or clipped to a purse, will be plain black, silver, dark blue or gray.

Handheld electronic devices that are not worn on the belt/waistband or clipped to a purse can be any color.

Holster and other storage devices used to attach handheld electronic devices to the uniform or purse will be plain black, silver, dark blue or gray. One handheld electronic device may be attached to a belt/waistband on either side or clipped to a purse.

Wear/use of an ear piece, any Bluetooth technology or headphones, while in uniform, indoors or outdoors, is prohibited, unless specifically authorized for the execution of official duties. Exception: Headphones and earphones (iPods, MP3-type players, etc.) are authorized during air travel and/or while wearing the physical training uniform during individual or personal PT in the fitness center or on designated running areas unless prohibited by the installation commander.

Use of a hands-free device is authorized while in uniform operating a motor vehicle, if local policy permits.

While walking in uniform, use of personal electronic media devices, including ear pieces, speaker phones or text messaging, is limited to emergencies or when official notifications are necessary. Military customs and courtesies take precedence.
